

WAVE 1 FUNCTIONALITY

WAVE 1 is a wearable device that can be comfortably worn on the wrist, ankle, or other part of the body. The device is worn for 90 minutes per day for 6 to 12 months. It is powered by a lithium ion battery that can be recharged like a mobile phone, with a micro USB.

The product is easy and safe to use. Two high intensity red lights emit WAVE 1's proprietary frequencies. These are absorbed through the skin and transmitted throughout the body to deliver the right information to the immune system.

THE PATIENT EXPERIENCE

Patients will have the benefit of ordering product online and dealing directly with the FREmedica customer support team or they may have the option of seeing a health practitioner that they are already working with. After practitioners buy the device from FREmedica, they will have the opportunity to explain and demonstrate the benefits to their patients. This gives the patient another option for support, one they have not previously had the ability or access to explore.

People are reporting a shift in their health and wellness to their doctors. Some of these doctors have contacted us to learn more and have ordered product for other Lyme patients.
